WARREN WATER ANNOUNCES NEW COMMUNITY RELATIONS COORDINATOR

BOWLING GREEN, KY – Melissa Hardin has joined the Warren County Water District as Community Relations Coordinator. In this position, Hardin will be responsible for the development and implementation of marketing and communication efforts for Warren County Water District, Simpson County Water District and Butler County Water System, Inc.

General Manager Alan Vilines is excited to welcome Hardin to the team. “Melissa exemplifies the professionalism and quality talent that reflects our organization’s goals,” says Vilines. “With her depth of experience in marketing, Melissa is a great fit for Warren Water.”

After graduating from Western Kentucky University, Hardin began her career in radio broadcasting and marketing, including the position of Marketing/Special Projects Coordinator at the Capitol Arts Alliance in Bowling Green, Ky. Employment advancements in Louisville, Ky. expanded Hardin’s areas of expertise to include copywriting, advertising, public relations and event planning within the advertising, automotive, non-profit and senior sectors. Her most recent marketing experience has been as a Marketing Specialist at Traffic Builders, Inc. in Louisville, Ky.

Hardin holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in communications and a minor in political science from Western Kentucky University. She is the 2006 recipient of the Young Alumna of the Year award from Western Kentucky University for her work with the Greater Louisville WKU Alumni Chapter. She is currently enrolled in the Inbound Marketing Training Program as part of Inbound Marketing University.
